

FOOD CHAIN INFORMATION: PIGS – DRAFT GUIDANCE

- This document provides guidance to slaughterhouse operators about the information they are required to request and receive from pig suppliers.
- Slaughterhouse operators are advised to use this as a basis for the information their business requires, and to customise, amend or add to it as fits their specific needs.
- An electronic version of this guidance can be down-loaded from the Food Standard Agency’s website.
- This guidance mirrors the BPEX web-based FCI system which operators are encouraged to use – www.bpex-fci.org.uk
- Production site details should be provided initially and up-dated when changes occur.

⁵ Required to ensure that quarterly ZAP testing is carried out for AI/AO producers.

⁶ Contact details of the site's veterinary surgeon are required if the plant operator or OV needs to contact him/her if problems are identified, and to feed back inspection results.

⁷ Information about production systems to determine if testing for Trichinella is required, and to assess eligibility for simplified, visual only inspection.

⁸ Controlled housing conditions: fully enclosed houses, including houses with external runs, that are constructed and managed to prevent the access of pets, wild animals and unauthorised persons.

⁹ The contact person is the person nominated by the owner of the pigs to provide Food Chain Information for the pigs on the site. The contact person must have, or be provided with, all the relevant information about the site and the pigs in the consignment.

¹⁰ This may differ from the number of pigs actually consigned

¹¹ Information about veterinary medicines is required to ensure that withdrawal periods have been respected. It also provides information about the health status of the pigs and about diseases that may affect the safety of meat.

¹² This information is equivalent to that required under Schedule 18 of the old Regulations. All pigs in this category must be identified in some manner.

¹³ If the answer is yes, the plant operator and OV should be contacted before the pigs are consigned.

¹⁴ If the answer is yes, the plant operator and OV should be contacted before the pigs are consigned.

¹⁵ MHS systems for the Collection and Communication of Inspection Results (CCIR) should be in place from early 2008. Inspection results will be held on the MHS database and made available electronically through its 'extranet' or in hard copy form to slaughterhouse operators, producers and their vets. Initially, until the MHS CCIR is in place, producers will have no inspection results – this information requirement will be implemented progressively as reports become available.

¹⁶ If a producer sends all his pigs to the same slaughterhouse, the operator will have access to previous inspection reports.

¹⁷ Copies of inspection reports for pigs slaughtered at other slaughterhouses may be provided by e-mail or paper copy.
