Guidance notes

Introduction

- The UK began collection of data for the Vineyard Register in 1990. There are currently over 400 active vineyards recorded on the Register, which is maintained by Wine Standards. Address details are used for the dispatch of Harvest and Production Declarations, to obtain annual production statistics for the UK.
- All the information held on the register will be treated as confidential. You will have the right to inspect the information held on computer and to have any justified alteration concerning your details taken into account; in particular, you will have the right to demand the periodic erasure of information of no further interest.
- If you have queries about completing this form please contact your local inspector. Details of local inspectors are available at www.food.gov.uk/wine

Completing the forms

- Under the Wine Regulations it is a statutory requirement that you complete the forms either if you have 0.1 hectare (1/4 acre) or more under vines or if your vineyard is a commercial undertaking.

Notes to help you complete Part 1

1. “Holdings” – A holding is a single unit, both technically and economically, which has a single management and which either has a wine-growing area of at least 0.1 hectare (1/4 acre) or is a commercial undertaking.
5. Total area of your agricultural holding
In addition to the total area under vines you should include arable land, permanent pasture and meadows and land used for permanent crops and kitchen gardens.

Notes to help you complete Part 2

8. Serial number of parcel
If you are completing Part 2 in respect of more than one parcel please allocate consecutive numbers to each parcel (e.g. 1, 2, 3).
9. “Parcels” – A continuous area of land on which only vines are cultivated. A separate Part 2 must be completed in the case of each individual parcel on which vines are cultivated.
- 10 (d). Material for the vegetative propagation of vines includes:
 - rooted cuttings: ungrafted pieces of rooted vine shoot intended for planting ungrafted or for use as rootstocks;
 - rooted grafts: pieces of vine shoot joined by grafting, the underground part of which is rooted;
 - rootstock cuttings for grafting: pieces of vine shoot intended to form the part below ground when preparing rooted grafts;
 - nursery cuttings: pieces of vine shoot intended for the production of rooted cuttings;
 - top-graft cuttings: pieces of vine shoot intended to form the part above ground when preparing rooted grafts.

Notes to help you complete Part 3

14. The serial numbers allocated to individual parcels in Part 2 should be repeated in the relevant Part 3 containing vine variety details for that parcel.
