

Updated: Warp Snacks recalls several Lentil Bites and Chips products because of undeclared gluten

Warp Snacks is recalling several Lentil Bites and Chips products because they may contain gluten which is not declared on the label. The exact cereal is currently unknown. This means the products are a possible health risk for anyone with coeliac disease, and/or an allergy or intolerance to gluten. This alert replaces the previous version as the batch code for the Eat Real Lentil Chips Salted 22g was listed incorrectly and should read 3142.

About allergy alerts

Sometimes there will be a problem with a food product that means it should not be sold. Then it might be 'withdrawn' (taken off the shelves) or 'recalled' (when customers are asked to return the product). Sometimes foods have to be withdrawn or recalled if there is a risk to consumers because the allergy labelling is missing or incorrect or if there is any other food allergy risk. When there is a food allergy risk, the FSA will issue an Allergy Alert.
