

Booths recalls Booths Four Spicy Vegetable Samosas because of undeclared soya

Booths is recalling Booths Four Spicy Vegetable Samosas because it contains soya, which is not mentioned on the label. Due to a packaging error, some products contain Lamb Samosa instead of Vegetable Samosa. This means the product is a possible health risk for anyone with an allergy to soya. It also contains undeclared meat.

Our advice to consumers

If you have bought the above product and have an allergy to soya, do not eat it. Instead return it to the store from where it was bought for a full refund.

About allergy alerts

Sometimes there will be a problem with a food product that means it should not be sold. Then it might be 'withdrawn' (taken off the shelves) or 'recalled' (when customers are asked to return the product). Sometimes foods have to be withdrawn or recalled if there is a risk to consumers because the allergy labelling is missing or incorrect or if there is any other food allergy risk. When there is a food allergy risk, the FSA will issue an Allergy Alert.
